

Connecting Carbon Ecosystems. Strengthening Local Climate Action.

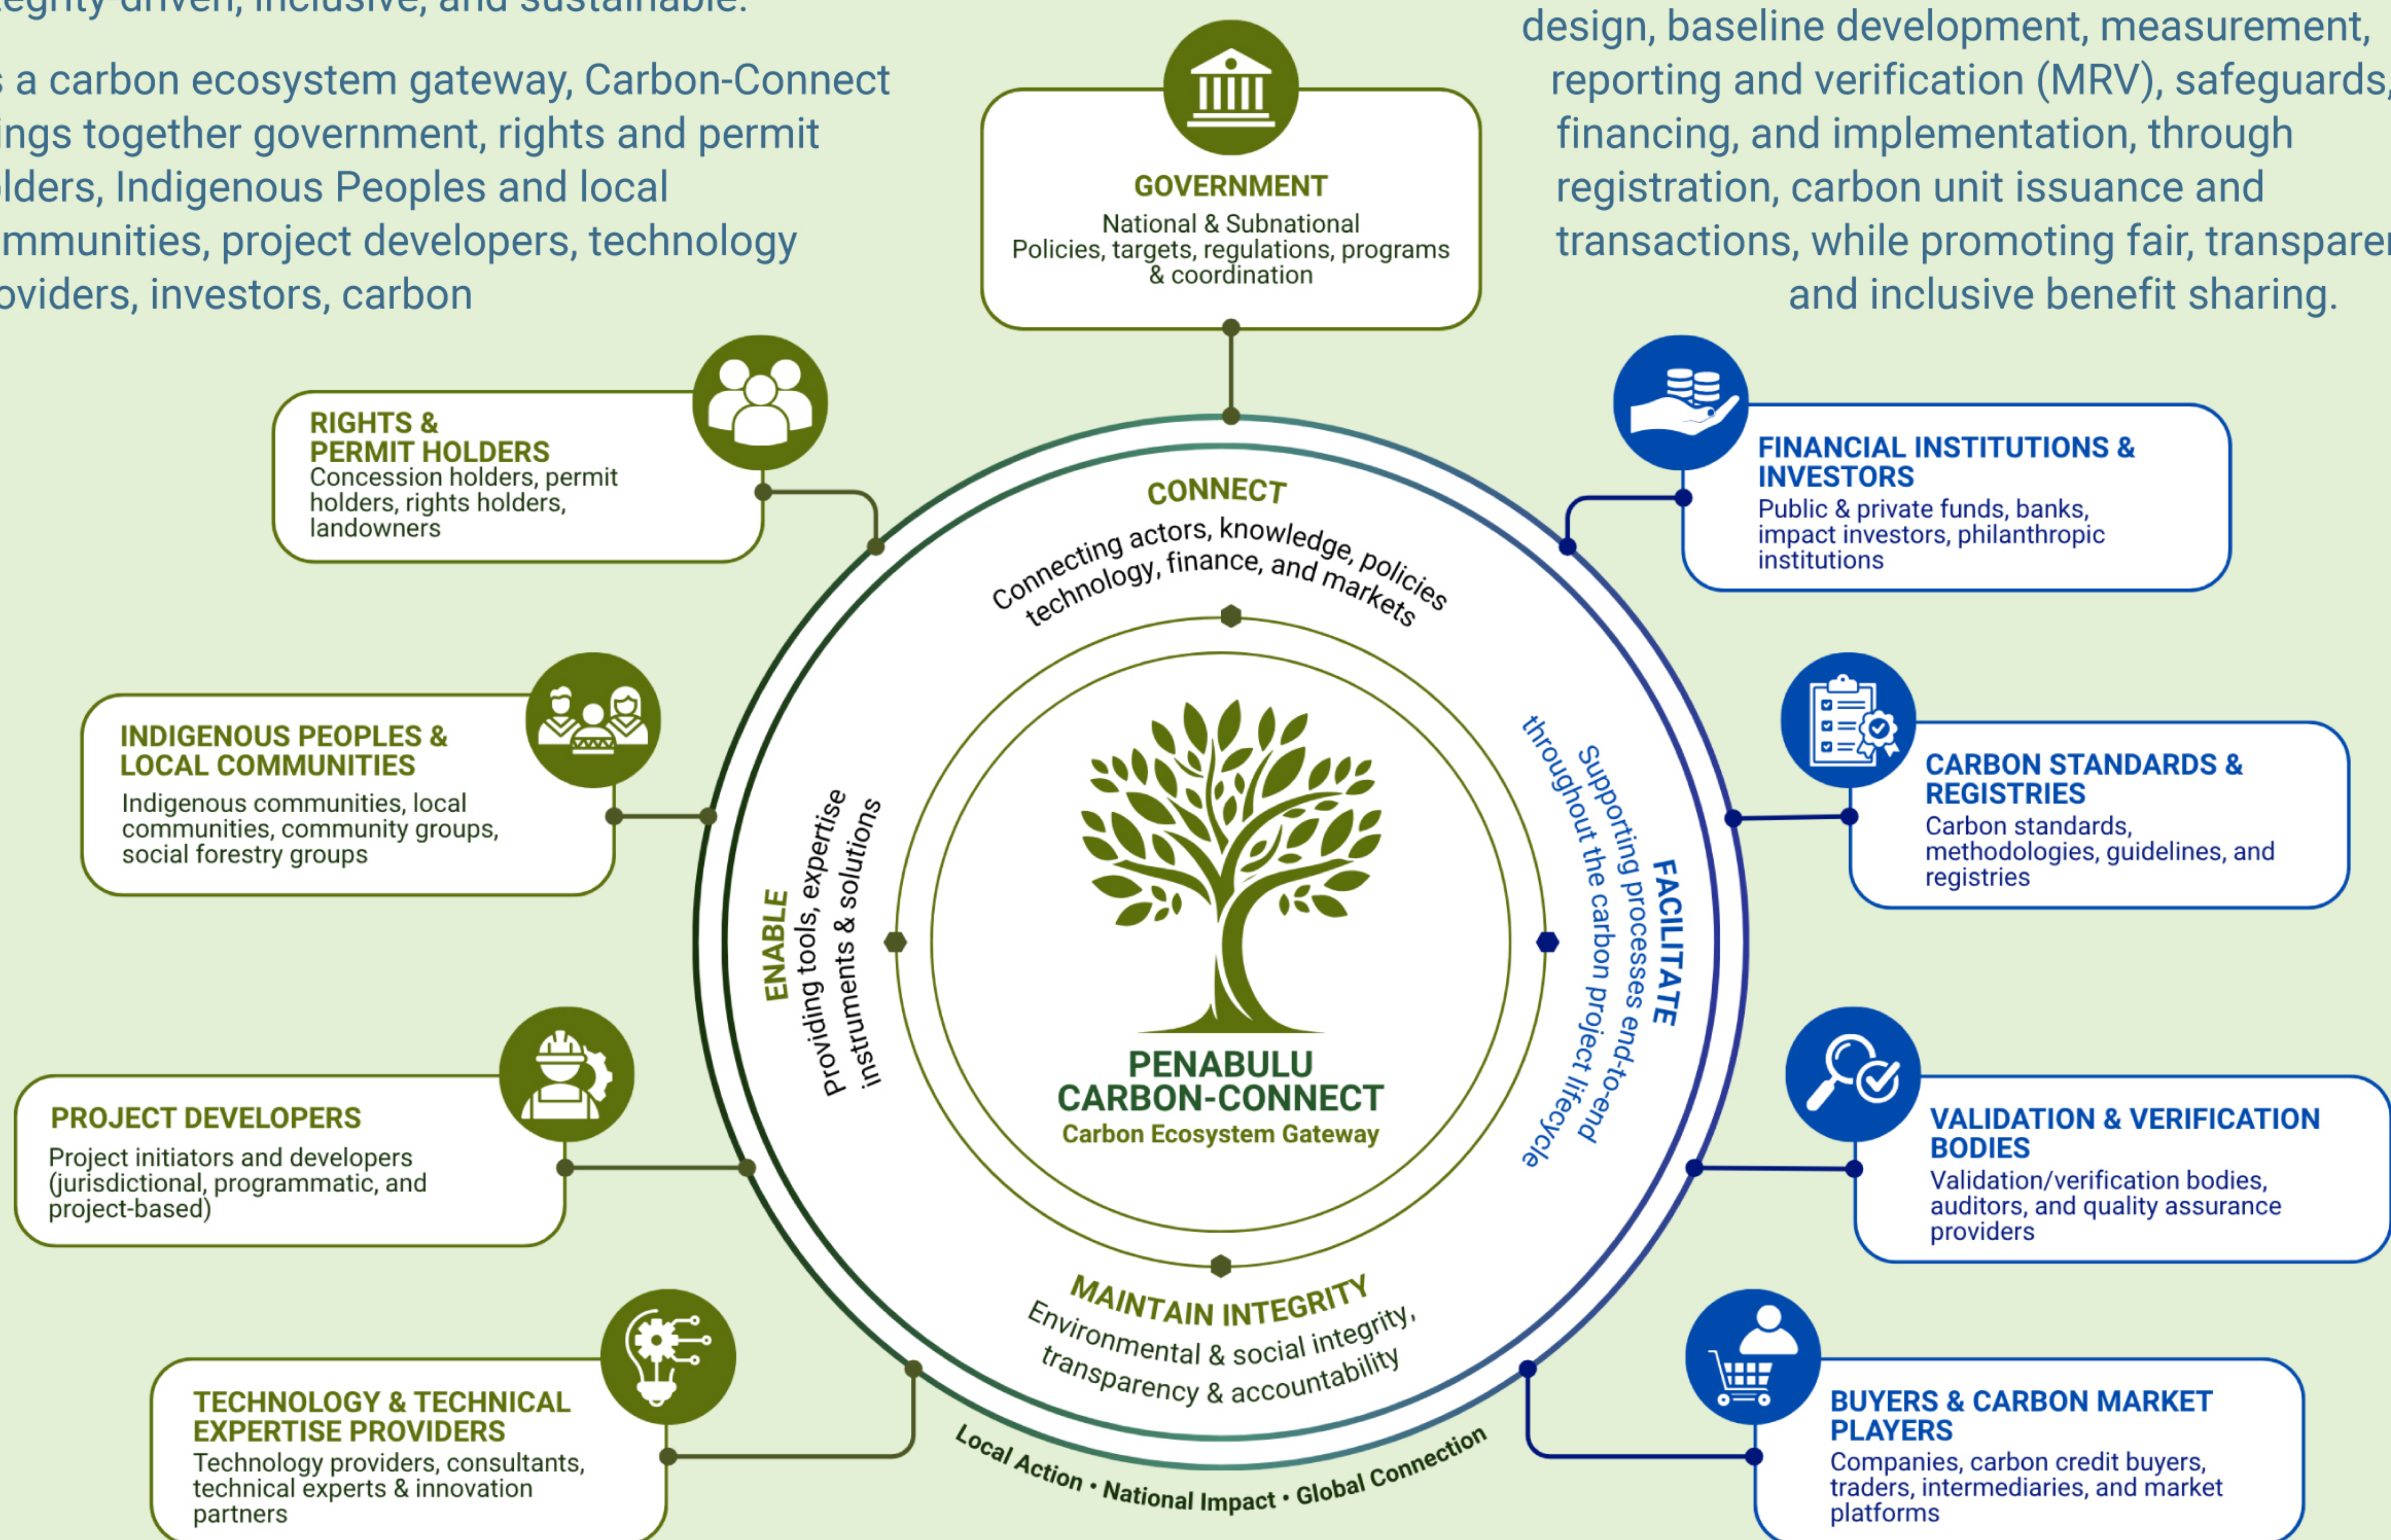

Trusted Intermediary and Carbon Ecosystem Gateway for a Sustainable and Inclusive Indonesia

Penabulu Carbon-Connect serves as an independent connecting hub and intermediary within Indonesia's carbon ecosystem, linking actors, knowledge, policies, financing, technology, and markets to promote carbon action that is integrity-driven, inclusive, and sustainable.

As a carbon ecosystem gateway, Carbon-Connect brings together government, rights and permit holders, Indigenous Peoples and local communities, project developers, technology providers, investors, carbon standards and registries, validation and verification bodies, and other relevant carbon market actors.

Carbon-Connect supports the full cycle of carbon initiatives, from potential identification, feasibility studies, participatory design, baseline development, measurement, reporting and verification (MRV), safeguards, financing, and implementation, through registration, carbon unit issuance and transactions, while promoting fair, transparent, and inclusive benefit sharing.
